We understand that recent policy changes at various facilities and agencies may have impacted your ability to attend our upcoming MEDmobility Education Day. At MEDmobility, we recognize the challenges you're facing and want to assure you that you're still welcome to attend, even if it's for a brief period.

Whether it's joining us for lunch, attending the Alberta Aids to Daily Living (AADL) updates, or simply stopping by to view the exhibits, your participation matters. We are committed to ensuring that you can still benefit from the key information relevant to your practice, regardless of how much time you can spare.
